Do you worry about memory loss?

The inability to recall information as we age can be caused by a number of medical conditions; some of them are reversible.

It is important to find the cause, so you can make informed decisions, seek treatment if indicated, and plan for your future.

We can help you find the cause and address your concerns.

Nexday Neuro Rehab is a memory clinic affiliate of the Wisconsin Alzheimer’s Institute.

MCFI Nexday Neuro Rehab Services assists older adults, particularly those experiencing changes in memory, to remain independent. Our evaluation looks at all aspects of memory loss, as well as medical conditions that may affect memory. We will also work with you to determine which treatments and options are available for you and your family.

The Memory Evaluation Service is made up of a number of health care assessments that are completed by a team of experts. The team will look at a wide range of health issues, including:

- Hearing and vision changes
- Memory loss
- Blood pressure concerns
- Nutrition and exercise
- Problem-solving abilities
- Fall risk
- Diabetes
- Confusion
- Depression
- Mobility

- Ability to do personal care and homemaking tasks
- Medications

The team will also:

- Assist with any additional recommended tests, such as blood work or a scan of the brain
- Talk with you and your family about their findings and recommendations
- Assist you with “next steps”
- Connect you with resources in your community

The Neuro Rehab team includes a physician, nurse practitioner, registered nurse, clinical coordinator, and neuropsychologist. All team members have expertise in working with older adults.

We will work directly with your primary care doctor or will help you find a doctor or other health care resources.
